OOSTBURG, WISCONSIN

Community Profile

The Village of Oostburg is nestled between Interstate 43 and Wisconsin Highway 32 in southeastern Sheboygan County. Founded by Dutch immigrants, Oostburg proudly honors its heritage through its historic downtown, charming miniature windmills, colorful tulip displays, and the annual Heritage Days celebration.

Oostburg is a growing village that blends small-town charm with a thriving local economy. The community supports a range of small businesses, manufacturing firms, and service providers that contribute to steady economic growth and job opportunities. Its convenient location near major highways provides easy access to regional markets and employment centers, making it attractive for both residents and businesses.

Government Structure

The Village of Oostburg operates under the laws of the State of Wisconsin. The Board consists of the Village President and six trustees. The members of the Board of Trustees are elected at large by the Village of Oostburg's registered voters to serve two-year staggered terms. As elected officials, the Village Board is responsible to the residents of Oostburg. The Board adopts ordinances, resolutions, budgets, goals, and policies of the Village.
